

PHYSICIAN WAS IN SERIOUS CONDITION

Dr. Farnsworth Gives Doan's Credit for His Wonderful Recovery.

Dr. T. G. Farnsworth, 73 S. Kansas St., Wauseon, Ohio, retired physician of over forty years, ex-State Congressman, ex-City Mayor and ex-County Health Officer, writes Doan's Kidney Pills. Here is his story: "It was just a few years after my retirement from practicing medicine that I found I was afflicted with severe disorder of the kidneys and bladder. I grew steadily worse, and sometimes I was unable to get around at all. The kidney secretions were retained and so painful in passing I would cry out in misery. I tried various remedies, but I had lost hope in other remedies. Doan's Kidney Pills were brought to my attention and I tried them. I soon noticed a change for the better. I used several boxes and they cured me completely. Never in my practice did I know a remedy that would accomplish what Doan's Kidney Pills did, and I give them my heartiest endorsement."

COMB SAGE TEA IN FADED OR GRAY HAIR

If Mixed with Sulphur It Darkens so Naturally Nobody can Tell.

Grandmother kept her hair, beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, all ready to use, at very little cost. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, not because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By using the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and beautiful.—Adv.

STOP LUMBAGO PAIN, RUB BACKACHE AWAY

Instant relief! Limber up! Rub pain, soreness, stiffness right out with "St. Jacob's Liniment."

When your back is sore and lame or lumbago, sciatica or neuritis has you stiffened up, don't suffer! Get a small trial bottle of old, honest St. Jacob's Liniment at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub it right into the pain or ache, and by the time you count fifty, the soreness and lameness is gone.

Don't stay crippled! This soothing, penetrating liniment takes the ache and pain right out and ends the misery. It is magical, yet absolutely harmless and doesn't burn or discolor the skin. Nothing else stops lumbago, sciatica and lame back misery so promptly and surely. It never disappoints!—Adv.

Keep your secret from your friends and your enemies will never get next to it.

DADDY'S EVENING FAIRY TALE

By Mary Graham Bonner

THE REWARD.

"Neigh, neigh, neigh," said the beautiful big horse whose name was Bennie. "Neigh, neigh, neigh," answered another beautiful big horse whose name was Kitty, and still another horse said, "Neigh, neigh, neigh," and this horse's name was Fred.

"When did you come?" asked Bennie. "It was only the other day that I saw you in the big city," answered Kitty.

"And then both the horses looked at Fred, and said, 'When did you come?'" "I saw both of you in the city, not long ago," said Fred.

"And the other horses nodded their heads and neighed as they agreed with Fred.

"We must have all come about the same time," said Bennie.

"I think you're right," said Kitty. "I'm sure you're right," said Fred. "Do you know why we came here?" asked Bennie.

"I know I've always been a lucky horse," said Kitty.

"I know why we all came here," said Fred. "I heard my master talking about it to your masters and I heard him say things which I am sure you will both be glad to hear."

"They made me very, very happy, for I have tried to do my best and it is nice to hear the good things, isn't it?"

"Yes," said Bennie. "I think it is, for I don't think it makes one contented to hear nice things. I think it makes one want to live up to them, and it makes everyone happy."

"I agree," said Kitty. "I think there are so many nice people, men and women, boys and girls, and animals, too, that they should be made happy by hearing that they are liked."

"Well, you'd both like to hear my story," asked Fred.

"We would," said Bennie, "for we are glad to hear you have good news for us. There were a few days when we were quite certain we were going to be sold, and we didn't know what sort of masters we would have."

"I almost died of joy when I came here," said Kitty.

"My master and your master," said Fred, pointing to the other two horses, "couldn't bear to have us sold. Of course we have spent our lives on the police force of a great city. We have helped the policemen who rode us."

"We have stopped runaway, we have saved lives of children and we have done everything we could, always. Of course, it would seem to me quite dreadful not to do everything possible to save the life of a wonderful child, for I came to the conclusion—which means that I finally decided—that children were about the most wonderful things in the world."

"How I loved helping them when they came from school. How gay and bright were the hours in the day when their high, gloriously happy voices would ring out."

"My master would whisper to me, 'The children are coming, Fred. We must be on guard that they don't get run over.'"

"And oh, the parades we have seen! The lives we have had of adventures! Our masters begged that we shouldn't be sold. They said we deserved to have our old age spent in peace and pleasure because we had always worked so hard, and had saved so many, many lives."

"When the news came that we would not be sold but that we would be brought to this wonderful farm and looked after all our days—well, our masters, simply cried for joy."

"They're to be rewarded," they shouted. "They're to be rewarded."

"So, we are to live on this beautiful farm. We will always be looked after. Our busy city lives are over, but oh, how thankful I am, that in my old age I can think of the days on the police force when I could do so much good."

And Kitty and Bennie neighed in happiness that this reward had been given to them.

TELLS OF TURK ATROCITIES

After being tortured and imprisoned by the Turks, acting under the leadership of their German masters, Miss Aurora Merdiganian, an Armenian girl, is in America with tales of cruelty and suffering beyond imagination. Her left leg bears evidence of the tortures to which she has been subjected. She will appear in conjunction with the photoplay (written from her life story) called "Ravished Armenia" the official picture of the American committee for relief in the near East. Mrs. Oliver Harriman, who is shown with Miss Merdiganian, has interested society in this work.

Fish as Fertilizing Material.

The oldest industry to make use of waste for fertilizing is the fish industry. The custom of fertilizing crops with fish existed among the Indians of New England before the arrival of white settlers. It is said that for fertilizing corn one or two fish were buried in each hill. This procedure was adopted by the colonists, and at the time of a large catch the surplus fish were simply spread broadcast over the fields. In places where fish were plentiful this disposal of an overabundance of fish has been practical until very recent times.

Baboons Fierce Fighters.

When they are being hunted with dogs an old baboon that is cornered seizes an attacker with one hand by the nearest limb, and, gathering up a fold of skin in the other hand, tears it off, and throwing aside his victim, waits for the next. In this way he will often kill several dogs before he gives up the fight.

URIC ACID IN THE SYSTEM

BY LEE H. SMITH, M. D.

Uric acid is now generally recognized as the cause of more diseases than was heretofore believed. When the kidneys are out of order uric acid accumulates within the body in superabundance. The disordered kidneys do not filter the poisons out of the blood, as they ought to do, and so the poisons remain in the blood and float around until they find a place to lodge, in form of urate salts. The thing to remember is that you may have rheumatism in any part of the body—you may have pains anywhere—your back may ache and your head may be dizzy—but the trouble is not where the pain appears.

The trouble is in the kidneys, and what is the first thing to do? You must get that excess uric acid out of your system, which can be done by taking Anuric Tablets, the splendid remedy which Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., has put on sale in the drug stores at a low price. Anuric Tablets (made double strength), when taken into the system as medicine, have the peculiar power of dissolving the uric acid deposited there. Drop a bit of sugar or salt into hot water, and it will disappear. In precisely the same way do the Anuric Tablets dissolve uric acid. Of course, after ridding the system of uric acid, it may return again unless you eat the right foods and live the right kind of life, but Dr. Pierce will advise you fully on proper food and correct living if you write and ask him. He makes no charge for such advice. Take Anuric Tablets today, by all means, and get that uric acid out of your system. Don't, don't, don't, put the matter off.
